ACTRESS Sadie Frost made a surprise appearance at London Fashion Week last night – along with her five-day-old son.

With Hollywood heart-throb husband Jude Law away filming in the States, she took fourth child Rudy backstage.

Sadie and business partner Jemima French then showed off their FrostFrench label's spring/summer collection.

Sadie made a feature of her latest accessory, the baby pouch, which was shown in matching colours and prints to the rest of the outfits.

Later, looking positively radiant, she beckoned to her five-year-old son Rafferty, who was hiding in some trees, to join her for the finale.
